This year's conference theme will be centered on "Global Opportunities", which will broadly cover the emerging technical and social challenges as well as related opportunities that are likely to transform our world in the coming decades.

One of the goals of the 2014 TASSA Conference is to recognize the success of Turkish-American women in basic and applied as well as social sciences and learn from their experiences. The WISESS Symposium will bring together Turkish women scientists who work in America and Turkey together with women leaders of academia.
